

COMMUNITY OF GARDENS INTERVIEWEE CONSENT FORM

Dear Interviewee,

Our class is participating in a national storytelling program through Smithsonian Gardens. Students will have the opportunity to interview gardeners in their community (family, friends, and community members) and submit their oral history project to Community of Gardens, an online, digital archive dedicated to preserving garden history stories for future generations and maintained by Smithsonian Gardens. By participating in this project, students will have the opportunity to learn more about the importance of green spaces in their community and, with your permission (the consent form follows), may contribute to a national archive. Before giving consent, learn about the Community of Gardens by visiting: About Community of Gardens - Smithsonian Gardens and Community of Gardens Submission Agreement - Smithsonian Gardens.

Consent Form:

I understand that my interviewer is participating in a class project to create stories, photos, videos, interviews, and audio files about gardens, and if I consent, my interviewer's teacher may share my interview with the Smithsonian for possible inclusion in a Smithsonian digital archive, Community of Gardens, and related Smithsonian activities. I have reviewed the Community of Gardens submission rules and FAQs.

I hereby grant permission for my interviewer's teacher to submit, and for the Smithsonian to generally use, my interview, along with my first name and last initial, and (if submitted) likeness without time limit and without compensation to me. This permission includes but is not limited to publication of my interview, in whole or part, on the Community of Gardens website, other Smithsonian communication channels (websites, social media, print and online publications or newsletters), fundraising, educational programming, and exhibitions. I understand this is a public archive, meaning that if it is selected for inclusion my interview will be available to the public for personal, educational, or non-commercial uses.

I understand that I can revoke this consent for my participation in Community of Gardens at any time by contacting Smithsonian Gardens.

About Community of Gardens: Community of Gardens is a free, non-commercial digital archive and website created and managed by Smithsonian Gardens, part of the Smithsonian Institution. The archive is a collection of stories about gardens and gardeners added by the general public, ranging from interviews with family and neighbors, stories of backyards and community gardens, and memories of gardens past. With the help of the public, including students and teachers, we hope to preserve these community stories for future generations of gardeners and historians.

If you have any questions about the project, please contact Smithsonian Gardens at communityofgardens@si.edu or 202-633-5840.
